- If all the conditions listed herein are met, all participants eligible for a family management fee rebate ("family rebate") benefit from the same rebate rate. This amount accrues daily and is paid quarterly to participants as additional units, on the first Friday of March, June, September and December, or the next business day. For any Desjardins Funds that are liquidated or closed before this date, the rebate will be paid on the liquidation or closing date. If Desjardins Investment Inc., the manager of the Desjardins Funds, ends the family rebate, it will be paid on the date said rebates are terminated.

5 | Terms and Conditions

- A family grouping is defined as being a group including (i) the occupants of the same residence, considered as the principal residence, without these people having to be related, (ii) any person who is a first-degree child of the main investor and, (iii) any management company that is more than 50% owned by 1 or more participants (individually, the "participant" and collectively, the "participants". A family grouping may be duly constituted when at least 1 Participant, the main investor, holds Desjardins Funds securities or those from Chorus II, Melodia or Sustainable Portfolios (collectively, "Desjardins Funds") with a net asset value equal to or greater than $250,000 in 1 or more accounts of a distributing broker (the "Distributing Broker"). There are no minimum holdings requirements for participants other than the main investor. For the purposes of the Program, a joint account is considered a separate participant.

- The family rebate takes effect 5 business days after Desjardins Investments Inc. receives the duly completed and signed form.
- For a family rebate distribution to be paid, it must be at least $1.00; if not, it will be automatically voided. Any family rebate distribution is automatically reinvested in the Desjardins Funds units that generated said distribution.

^b See the terms and conditions of the Program.

* The value of the assets invested in units of the Wise ETF Portfolios and of the Desjardins Alt Long/Short Equity Market Neutral ETF Fund (the "Exempt Funds") is used to determine the daily market value. However, the units of the Exempt Funds do not benefit from the management fee rebate under the Program.

- If the net asset value of the main investor's Desjardins Funds securities falls below $250,000, the daily market value ceases to qualify for the family rebate as of that date. The daily market value will begin to be taken into consideration again for the family rebate only once the net asset value of the main investor's Desjardins Funds securities becomes equal to or greater than $250,000. However, unitholders who qualify for individual rebates (see the Preferred pricing program notice) can receive these rebates.
- The total amount of net assets invested in eligible units of Desjardins Funds held in 1 or more of the Distributing Broker accounts is used to determine the daily market value. The eligible units can benefit from the management fee rebate under the Program.
- The calculation of the daily market value of the family grouping includes all the Distributing Broker accounts held by the participants, and this, by representative, including accounts held by participants opened after the creation of the family grouping. For joint Distributing Broker accounts to be included in the calculation of the family grouping's daily market value, the joint account must be added as a separate participant.
- The family rebate is deemed to be income and, as a result, is taxable. Tax treatment differs however, depending on whether the Desjardins Funds securities are held in registered or non-registered accounts. There is no immediate tax impact for rebates paid into registered accounts such as a TFSA, FHSA, LIRA, RRIF, LIF, RESP or an RRSP. Tax is deferred until the amounts invested are withdrawn. In non-registered accounts, family rebates can, depending on the circumstances, be considered dividends, capital gains or other income, or even as a return of capital, and can therefore be taxable immediately.
- The following participants will cease to be considered as participants in the family grouping: (i) a participant, with the exception of a participant who is a direct first-degree descendant of the main investor, whose domicile ceases to be the principal residence; (ii) any management company that ceases to be more than 50% owned by 1 or more participants. These removals from the family grouping will take effect (i) as of the date of the change of address and (ii) as of the date of the change in the ownership of the company, respectively. The family grouping remains in effect for the other participants according to the family grouping's new daily market value and subject to the terms and conditions herein.
- The representative and participants are responsible for any additions, removals or changes to the family grouping made on this form. The representative and participants must ensure that the form is properly completed and that all participants are qualified according to the family grouping eligibility conditions.
- Each participant certifies having read and accepts the family grouping terms and conditions, and consents to sharing their personal information with Desjardins Investments Inc. and the entities who are members of the group, as well as with the other participants for family grouping purposes.
- The family discount cannot be cumulated with individual rebates (see the Preferred pricing program notice) offered by Desjardins Investments to Desjardins Funds unitholders.
- The terms and conditions applicable to the family rebate, including the amount of said rebate and its termination, may be modified at any time by Desjardins Investments Inc. with 60-day written advance notice sent to the holders.
